

TO DRINK FIVE WINES UNDER 20 $

Wine will not escape inflation. The SAQ will raise the prices of many bottles of wines at the end of May. European products in particular will likely be impacted by these raises, as the 2021 harvest suffered Spring frosts and heavy rains. Nevertheless, it is possible de drink well without losing your shirt.

REVIEW THE CLASSICS

Its price is sweet, its alcohol content low and its taste delicious, here is the Classic cuvée from Domaine Tariquet summed up in a few words. Produced for 40 years by the Grassa family in the southwest of France, this blend of Ugni Blanc, Colombard, Gros Manseng and Sauvignon Blanc is lively and fragrant. A classic! Its nose opens with spring notes of lilac in bloom, lemon and boxwood. Its ample texture in the mouth is surprising for the price. Another surprise: with its 1150 hectares of vines, the estate also applies strict social and environmental rules. It's not certified organic, but almost. Paired with a chic crab entrée or tuna salad, this wine will do the job.
